Vaccinations for COVID-19 begin on the Gulf Coast

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

The state of Mississippi on Monday began offering COVID-19 vaccinations to healthcare workers and long-term care residents and staff, with opportunities beginning next week to those aged 75 and older; and people 65 and older the week after.

"The most important task that we have is getting the vaccine out to the public. That is our only way out of all this," Gov. Tate Reeves said in a press release Monday. "I still believe everyone should continue to take social distancing seriously."

Starting this week, according to the Mississippi State Health Department, "Any healthcare worker, paid or unpaid, in any setting where they may be exposed directly or indirectly to COVID-19 patients or COVID-19 infectious

There will also be a

Those wishing to get vaccinations are asked to schedule an appointment online at covidvaccine.umc.edu. MSDH reminds people that the COVID-19 vaccination is a two-dose series. You must schedule an appointment for your second dose 28 days from the time you received

The first pass should be completed by Friday, Jan. 8, he said. The second pass through is expected to begin on Saturday morning.

Carnival comes 'HOME' in Hancock County for 2021

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

There's an old saying that home is where the heart is, but this year — thanks to COVID-19 — home is where the Carnival is.

Many of the Mississippi Gulf Coast's major Mardi Gras parades have been canceled due to the pandemic, but Ruth's Roots is leading the charge to keep the celebration going with the "Hancock House Floats" contest.

"People here were so sad over Nereids being canceled and Seahorse being canceled and all that stuff," Ruth's Roots founder Elise Deano said Monday, so she and Kay Kell started the Hancock House Floats Facebook page and contest, offering prizes to Hancock county residents for the best Mardi Gras decorations.

"Just like you can put your kids in the car and go look around at Christmas lights, you can drive around and look at the house 'floats,'" Deano said.

"I love that everybody's so excited about it," Kell said. "People need something to be excited about right now. I think both Elise and I were watching what was happening in New Orleans and all the house floats they were doing there, and they were doing it to help all the artists there who are out of work."

The cost to register is just a canned food item for the free food bank at Ruth's Roots — the group will also be placing "blessing boxes" with food elsewhere around the county — and you can register from home via the Hancock House Floats Facebook page.

"It's safe, anybody can do it, and you don't have to decorate a lot," Kelly said. "It's available for everybody. It's a reason to get excited about celebrating Mardi Gras."

Kell said she is decorating her "float" in honor of the late Carter Church and Yancy Pogue.

"They are the reason that I joined Seahorse and they're the reason that I became queen," Kelly said. "When Yancy died, I was given a lot of their Mardi Gras decoration and a lot of their old costumes and I'm going to take advantage of that," she said.

"We are partnering with The Arts, Hancock, to let us use some of the things they were given (from the estate) along with the building," which the group recently acquired from the Church/Pogue estate.

Deano said there will be multiple prizes, including $500 for best decorated business float,

Election season 2021 already under way

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

The new year has barely begun, but election season has already started in Bay St. Louis and Diamondhead.

Municipal elections are the only elections on the statewide calendar for 2021, barring any required special elections that may occur due to someone leaving office prematurely for some reason.

The city of Waveland was incorporated under a special charter and is therefore on a different election calendar.

According to the Mississippi Secretary of State's office, qualifying began on Jan. 4 for both mayoral seats and all city council positions. The deadline to qualify is Feb. 5. Qualifying packets can be picked up at the respective city hall offices.

The primary elections are scheduled for April 6, with any necessary runoffs to be held on April 27.

The general election for both cities is scheduled for June 8.

The winners of those races will be officially sworn into office in July.

Federal Assistance Approved For Counties Impacted By Hurricane Zeta

SEA COAST ECHO

PEARL, Miss. (MEMA) – Governor Tate Reeves’ request for Individual and Public Assistance (FEMA-4576-DR-MS) for counties affected by Hurricane Zeta, was approved by President Trump. The storm impacted portions of Southeast Mississippi on October 28, 2020. Zeta slammed the Gulf Coast producing eight feet of storm surge and maximum wind gusts around 100 mph.

“I want to thank President Trump for approving my request for public and individual assistance for those impacted by Hurricane Zeta. Homeowners, local governments, and business owners in the declared counties can start the new year rebuilding from this storm,” says Governor Reeves. Public Assistance was approved for the following eight counties: George, Greene, Jackson, Hancock, Harrison, Perry, Stone and Wayne. Public assistance is available to local governments and eligible private non-profit agencies to assist in the costs for emergency work and the repair or replacement of disaster-damaged facilities.

Individual Assistance was also approved for the following six counties: George, Greene, Jackson, Hancock, Harrison and Stone. Individual assistance is available to residents in those six counties and can include grants for temporary housing and home repairs, low-cost loans to cover uninsured property losses, and other programs to help individuals and business owners recover from the effects of this disaster.

Residents and business owners in George, Greene, Jackson, Hancock, Harrison and Stone counties who sustained losses during Hurricane Zeta can now apply for assistance by registering online at www.DisasterAssistance.gov or by calling 1-800-621-FEMA (3362) or 1-800-462-7585 (TTY) for the hearing and speech impaired.

Because of the pandemic, MEMA is encouraging all residents to apply online or by phone. For those without the resources to apply online, MEMA is establishing Disaster Assistance Centers for residents to apply in person. Those locations and operation hours will be announced at a later date.

Pandemic, Hurricane Zeta take heavy toll on Waveland Civic Association

BY STACEY CATO
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

As the coronavirus continues to spread, community event cancellations are becoming the new normal, and many locals are worried that will continue into the new year.

Last month, the Waveland Civic Association voted to cancel its upcoming 2021 St. Patrick's Day Ball.

"As of right now, the future of all our traditional St. Patrick's Day and other events really depends on a lot of unknowns," Waveland Civic Association President A.J. Andres said this week.

"Although we must do our part to help prevent further potential spread of the virus, we also recognize just how important our age-old traditions are to the community and its mental health during these trying times."

The devastating news comes after an extremely difficult year for the organization, Andres said.

"We were fortunate enough to hold our 2020 St. Patrick's Day ball, but the parade — along with many of our other events typically held throughout the year — had to be canceled abruptly due to the outbreak. These decisions weren't made lightly. It's also definitely taken a financial toll on the organization as a whole."

The association's den, where crews store their creative shamrock decor and floats, also took a hard hit during Hurricane Zeta, complicating things even more for the organization, Andres said.

"We have a lot of damage," he said. "The den needs new structural support beams and rafters, replacement metal for the outside walls, paint and new doors, since the storm took our others."

"A lot more than what people think goes into this. We'd like to secure the building and begin making the necessary repairs so we don't lose our members' hard creative work and so the floats aren't damaged, but it's extremely hard to do with a limited amount of people. We really need all hands on deck."

According to Andres, membership was at an all-time high prior to the pandemic.

"We are starting to get a younger generation of membership. A lot of the older generation just can't or don't want to get out," Andres said. "I'm really afraid the impacts will be felt this year if we don't prepare now by tossing around the idea of some new and unique non-traditional concepts."

Currently, Andres said, the organization is accepting membership applications.

"We have lots we can do and do safely. I think doing something is better than doing nothing," Andres said. "It's important to the community and to the children who look forward to being a big part of our events each year. We won't give up on celebrating in some sort of fashion."

If you would like to become a member of the Waveland Civic Association or make a contribution, you can contact A.J. Andres at 228-493-3861. You can make a donation online through PayPal @WavelandCivicAssoc or at any First Bank location. You can also mail a check or money order to P.O. Box 104 Waveland, MS 39576. You can also visit the Waveland Civic Association's Facebook page for more information.

"We're going to set up a place so that if we have extra beads or decorations, people can get them if they need them," Kell said. "It needs to be something that everybody can participate in."

The city has also added a button at the top of its website, www.waveland.ms.gov, for residents to specifically report debris problems or concerns which are forwarded directly to the monitoring company and debris contractor, Lagasse said.

The Mississippi State Department of Health (MSDH) on Tuesday reported 1,767 new cases of COVID-19 in the state and 91 new deaths.

Fifteen of the deaths occurred between Dec. 10 and Dec. 30, identified from death certificate reports.

Twenty-nine new cases and one new death were reported in Hancock County.

Hancock County’s total now stands at 2,167 with 56 COVID-19 related deaths.

“Mississippi’s total of COVID-19 cases since March 11 now stands at 225,444 with 4,975 deaths,” according to the agency’s statement on Tuesday. “There are now 227 active outbreaks of COVID-19 in long-term care facilities (where an outbreak is one or more cases among residents or staff).”

As of January 4, the MSDH reports that 1,444 Mississippians are hospitalized with confirmed infection; 349 patients in ICU; 74 patients hospitalized with suspected infection; and 223 patients on ventilators.

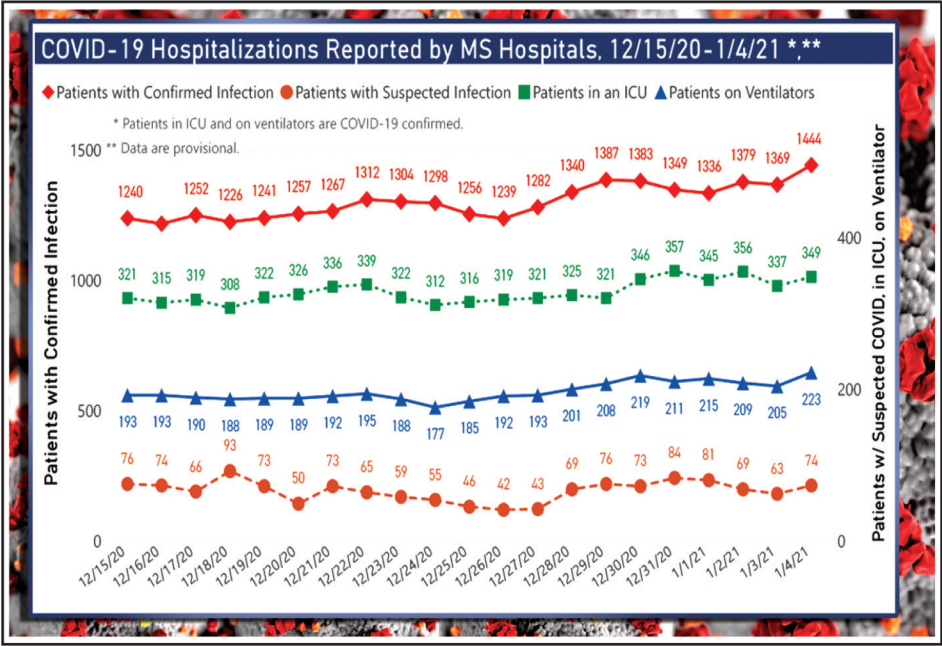

MSDH reported 1,784 new cases and 32 new deaths on Sunday, including 14 new cases in Hancock; 1,891 cases and 24 deaths statewide on Saturday, including 20 new cases in Hancock; and 2,575 cases and 29 deaths statewide on Friday, including 41 new cases in Hancock County. The Mississippi State Department of Health (MSDH) on Monday reported 1,616 new cases of COVID-19 in the state and 13 deaths, including 30 new cases in Hancock County.

The State Health Officer urges Mississippians to avoid any non-essential contact with those outside your immediate household. You are safest at home, in small groups, and outdoors. Please wear a mask in public and keep a safe distance from others. These steps can bring COVID-19 cases down swiftly if they are followed. The latest COVID-19 guidance and protective steps to take are online at <https://msdh.ms.gov/covid-19>.

As of January 3, the MSDH estimates that 182,103 Mississippi residents who had tested positive for COVID-19 are presumed recovered.

Statewide combined testing as of January 2 : MSDH: 148,300; Other testing providers: 1,738,236.

“Anyone with symptoms of fever, severe cough or severe chest pains – especially those who are older or in poor health – should make arrangements for testing with their doctor or one of the many healthcare providers now performing testing,” according to MSDH. “Healthcare providers can assess your health history and symptoms, and perform testing for COVID-19 as needed. MSDH is also helping conduct free drive-up testing sites in many parts of the state. Always call ahead to the testing provider for instructions on safely being examined before you visit for your test.”

IT CAN HAPPEN ANYWHERE

The following is a true story that happened in a town a lot like yours.”

The above quote is taken from the credits of Investigation Discovery’s show “Murder in the Heartland,” which I watch on Hulu’s streaming service.

Each episode features a true murder story that occurred in the midwest.

There are interviews with surviving family members; townsfolk; law enforcement officers; and attorneys.

One of the things I love most about documentaries in general is hearing the story from the people who lived through the various events, whether it be a murder or not.

It’s people just like you and me living in small towns like Bay St. Louis, Waveland, and Diamondhead.

What you can also learn from these true-crime documentaries is about how law enforcement officials go about gathering evidence and narrowing down the list of suspects.

Evidence is really important, because without that, it’s really hard to prove a case in court. Accusations without legitimate proof to back them up are basically useless.

I also enjoy watching actual footage of the real trials. I have watched videos from the Menendez brothers trial, the trial of Michael Peterson, Lorena Bobbitt, and many more. I think it’s important to know how our justice system works. But, I am in no way advocating that you only learn your information from documentaries, because that would be silly and irresponsible.

I’m always looking up the event or the case to find out the information, either while I’m watching or right after.

However, one mentality keeps popping up during these episodes, and I’m paraphrasing here, and it’s that they can’t believe it (the gruesome murder) happened in their quiet little town where everyone knows each other and helps one another out.

I for one think that’s kind of a dangerous mentality. For the most part, Hancock County is a safe place to live and raise a family, but has certainly had its share of gruesome crimes.

One of the adult persons interviewed said she didn’t even know what the word homicide meant.

I was a little shocked. I mean, sure, it must be nice to live in a little bubble and never experience that type of crime, but to not even know what that word means?

LOOKING BACK ON 2020 IN WAVELAND

As you know 2020 has been a very challenging year to say the least. Beginning with a world changing pandemic that forced us into virtual monthly meetings.

Zoom and Go To meetings have replaced the normal meetings for prospective developers, business marketing, employee training, and almost every other facet of meetings to conduct city business.

We also have had to cancel many of our cherished events within the city. Events like the Nereids and St. Patricks Day parades, our July 4th event and many more. These events are enjoyed by our citizens and visitors alike.

If COVID-19 wasn’t bad enough, there were a record amount of storms in the Atlantic. Many were a near miss for Waveland. We experienced tropical storms and a hurricane that caused significant damage to residents’ homes, municipal buildings, and infrastructure. Finally, a Presidential Declaration has been approved and was signed. Thanks to the hard work of Senator Cindy Hyde Smith, Senator Roger Wicker, and Congressman Palazzo. This means we should get reimbursed for debris pick up and repairs to city buildings, the municipal pier or infrastructure which will total more than $2.5 million.

Waveland was fortunate to continue to grow despite the COVID-19 virus and storms. 42 permits were issued for new home construction and 38 remodels. The city remains financially healthy despite the hurdles faced in 2020.

The Board of Mayor and Aldermen is proud to announce the following projects which have been completed or are in process for 2020 including but not limited to the following;

Waveland Ave sidewalks with subsurface drainage was completed from Hwy 90 to the CSX Railroad; Nicholson Ave overlay with Bike Paths on both sides of the road is underway but experienced a slow down due to storm debris but is scheduled to finish on time. This project will be from Hwy 90 to Sixth St. Funding for a sidewalk for Joseph Street from Herlihy Street north to Old Spanish Trail west to Margie Street has been approved and should begin soon.

A study was completed for the intersection of St. Joseph Street and Waveland Elementary School to make that intersection safer for our children.

A completely new park with playground equipment will be installed on the corner of Avenue B and Caspian Street very soon.

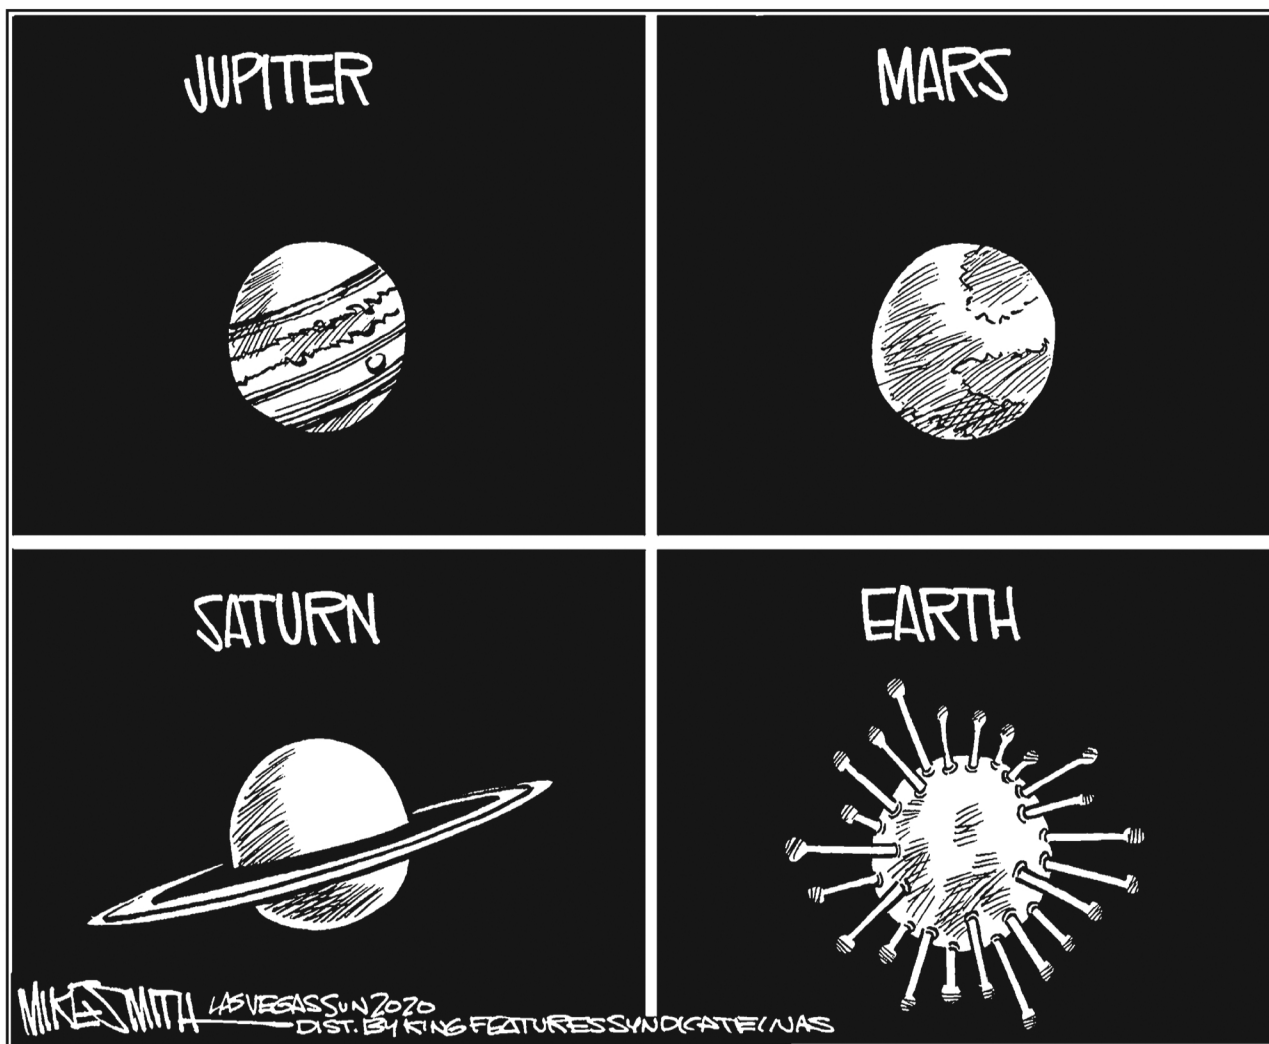

Some great developments are about to occur on Coleman Avenue and Hwy. 90, which is very exciting along with other exciting news coming soon.

I can’t wait to get 2021 started.

We have hired a consulting firm to help obtain state and federal funding for some of the bigger projects such as dredging Jackson Marsh to increase storage of storm water and protecting our local habitat. They are working hard for the city.

OUR 2021 GOAL: Investing in MS’s Greatest Asset, Our Citizens

Last year, the Legislature provided computers to every Mississippi student, increased connectivity to unserved areas, provided additional ICU bed capacity, and contributed to the cost of personal protective equipment for healthcare workers, cities and counties, and much more.

The New Year is a time for setting new resolutions and paving a path to accomplishing them. Our 2021 goals in the Lieutenant Governor’s Office center around investing in Mississippi’s greatest asset: our people.

Equipping our citizens with the skills and resources they need to obtain a quality education, secure a meaningful career, and engage in their communities is the single-best way to assure our State’s future success. When the number of people employed increases, our health outcomes improve, our State becomes more attractive for developers and investors, and we have more money circulating through our economy for our schools, roads and bridges, and other critical services and infrastructure.

In terms of the driving creators of jobs, our bench is deep in Mississippi. We have worked with our local economic developers to bring forward an incentive for small-to-medium businesses which is competitive with neighboring states, easy to calculate and understand, and transparent with taxpayer money. The plan, tentatively called “MFLEX,” allows flexibility while requiring reporting and accountability. If the business seeking the incentive does not meet their stated goals, they do not receive the incentive. We look forward to introducing this innovative proposal, and to eliminating tax incentives which are seldom used or have generated a negative return.

On education, research shows the number of people who are employed is directly correlated with educational attainment levels. This starts with supporting our citizens who are most closely connected with growing the next generation of Mississippi leaders: our K-12 teachers. This Session, we will push legislation to raise teachers’ salaries and attract more licensed professionals to our K-12 classrooms. We are also interested in increasing dual enrollment and dual credit programs for 11th and 12th graders. Providing these op-

In a lot of these cases, the killer is a family member or someone close to the victim. Murder is not always some random act of violence.
Not every murderer is a Ted Bundy, Ed Kemper, Richard Ramirez, or Jeffrey Dahmer. Their victims were mostly random people who sadly crossed paths with these serial killers.
I mean sure, serial killers like the above mentioned are scary. But, what’s even scarier are people like Chris Watts, who was convicted of murdering his wife and two little girls or Josh Powell, who blew up his home with himself and his two young sons inside after locking the social worker out. But that wasn’t enough for Josh, he also hit those little boys with a hatchet prior to the explosion. He was also under investigation for the disappearance of his wife.

These seemingly “normal” people can and might live next door to any of us and could even be a family member. Just watch the documentary, “Abducted in Plain Sight.” That one still gives me the shivers.
Ah yes, I can hear the “You can’t live in fear,” chants now.
No, you shouldn’t live in fear. But people should at least live aware and act like they have a brain. Can we foresee every dangerous situation? No, but we can do our very best to be mindful of our surroundings and those we chose to hang out with.
Learn to recognize symptoms of unusual behavior and offer help if you can. Listen to spouses, parents, and children when they tell you they are being abused or think they might be in mortal danger. See if you can help them find the proper channels for help before it’s too late.

portunities for secondary students increases the likelihood that they will be career or college ready by graduation day.
Finally, thousands of people who were previously incarcerated are released every year and reenter our working-age population. Neglecting to provide these individuals with the tools they need to succeed, like a driver’s license or workforce training, only ensures recidivism. We are working now with our Sheriffs, District Attorneys, and citizen advocates on a bill to address some of these issues and to safely expand parole eligibility.

There are other initiatives including tax reform, the continued streamlining of government, and access to healthcare, to name a few, which will also be critical as we move forward.

From a flood covering our Capital City, horrific tornadoes and hurricanes, a corrections crisis, and a worldwide pandemic which continues to threaten our citizens’ safety and ravage our economy, 2020 has been one of the most challenging in modern history. By keeping our eye on the prize — helping more Mississippians find a meaningful job — our State is certainly headed for brighter days.

Applications for funding for the Marina and Boardwalk Project has been applied for through the BP portal as well as the federal BUILD Grant.
Hazard Mitigation funding has been applied for to protect the Pier Road from future storm damage.
We have advertised for RFQ’s for Marina Design as well as Project Repair which are scheduled to be opened at the beginning of January.
We have purchased six new police vehicles to replace aging police vehicles. Ten vehicles have been purchased for Public Works Department as well as two new command vehicles for the Fire Department and a new vehicle for the Building official have been ordered.
We have Tidelands funds for the handicap access to the water’s edge from the pier road and the Lighthouse Parking Lot as well as a trailer mounted air conditioned restroom. As soon as the pier is repaired these items will be installed. We are also planning to replace the pagodas on the pier road.

The Board of Supervisors have installed beach side parking and pagodas near the beach volleyball courts and two bonfire burn pits on the Beach; one at Nicholson Avenue and one at the Beach Parking Bay.
We are looking into the possibility of elevating the Beach Road to prevent flooding during regular storms and protect the properties along the Beach from future storm damage.
We are installing a handicap swing and exercise equipment for our senior citizens at Gex Park along with paving that parking lot.
We are currently planning on a paving project in the city after the new year. Some of the priorities are Kiln-Waveland Cutoff Road, Central Avenue, Waveland Avenue and Old Spanish Trail.
For the residents that are on a grinder pump, we are working on a project to begin taking over the maintenance of those systems. If you are currently on a grinder pump system we will be in touch with you soon to get that process started.

We have hired Municode to make sure our ordinances do not conflict with each other and have all of the ordinances indexed and available on the website.
The City of Waveland has partnered with Mississippi Power Company for a great project in converting all of their street lights to LED and also reduced our cost per street light. This is an exciting project.
We have been working on obtaining security cameras for the city parks and other city property to ensure resident safety and protection of city property.
We hired a blighted property employee to address the blight in the city and she is making great progress. There are many blighted properties yet to clean up but we will get to them.
On behalf of the Board of Aldermen and I, I would like to thank our employees for their hard work this year and thank the residents for choosing Waveland as your home.

NEWSPAPERS ARE MISSISSIPPI'S LEADING SOURCE OF NEWS AND ADVERTISING INFORMATION

You've heard the news about newspapers. But what you may not know is the truth: The Sea Coast Echo has been your local news source since 1892 and has grown significantly from year to year. Our future is bright and not slowing. Mississippi newspapers are the state's leading information source. As many as 7-of-10 adults are regular, engaged readers of their local newspaper. Here are a few more headlines...

We've been led to believe that the internet is taking over every aspect of the news. This is not the truth.

Newspapers have twice the trust factor of any other medium.

Even those born in the digital generation are loyal print readers. In fact, a 2012 study indicates as many as 23 percent of Millennials read a print newspaper just yesterday. They, too, rely on the invaluable news and information only available in the local paper. When it comes to learning more about your community and the world at large, even the next generation know there is power in print.

Here, in Mississippi, our readership scores are much higher among younger adults (18-34) than in most other states.

6-of-10 Mississippians say newspapers are the local source they rely on most for information about advertising. The Sea Coast Echo reaches at minimum 7,500 people per issue and 15,000 per week. Those are significant numbers.

Advertising in newsprint has a wide range. You might be targeting one specific age group or demographic in most digital mediums whereas we target all demographics.

When it comes to choosing the medium for your message, newspapers are a wise investment. That, dear reader, is the truth.

LAURA LADNER

With a heavy heart, the family of Laura Ladner would like to announce her passing with the following obituary:

Mrs. Laura Marie Ladner, age 78, a life-long resident of Waveland, Mississippi and active community member of Hancock County, passed from this life and returned to her heavenly home on January 1, 2021.

Born November 19, 1942 at her family's home in Waveland, Mississippi, Laura was the second of seven children of Chris and Marie Ladner. Laura attended Gulfview Elementary and was a 1961 graduate of Bay High School. Following her passion for trends and fashion, she attended Chris's Cosmetology School where she became a licensed beautician. She was co-owner of Laura Lin's Salon in Waveland before moving to Ramsey's Beauty Salon in Bay Saint Louis, where she later retired.

While one of Laura's many passions included styling trendy hair, she was an extremely talented and skilled crochet and cross stitcher. She spent many days and nights working on pieces that she would later give to babies and family members. Laura also enjoyed great music, dancing, traveling, Mardi Gras season, cheering on the New Orleans Saints and snacking on crackers and butter; however, nothing compared closely to the love she held for her family.

She was present in the lives of those she loved and was the biggest fan to all of her many family members, especially her nieces and nephews. She never missed an opportunity to support her family and could always be counted on to show up to cheer them on no matter the occasion. She was more than a sister, aunt, and cousin; to many around her, she was a mother-figure and best friend. Laura's love for her family was given unconditionally and with her whole heart.

Not only did Laura's heart have a lot of love and space for her family and friends, it was also extraordinarily received as an organ donation from Oschner's in 2003, blessing Laura with more years, experiences and tender moments with her loved ones. This gracious gift was uniquely used by Laura in that she shared an abundance of joy, love and faith with all those around her. To know her, was to love her. She was a soft spoken and giving soul, and what she gave, she gave with her whole heart.

Laura is preceded in death by her husband, Vernon Ladner, mother, Marie Evelyn Bourgeois, her loving dad, Christopher Ladner and her older brother, “Bubba,” George Day.

Among those to cherish and keep her memories alive are her siblings Carlos Ladner of Bay Saint Louis, Miss., Marie Green of Bay Saint Louis, Miss., Marline (Bobby) Knesel of Kiln, Miss., Alice Ray of Lakeshore, Miss., Tommy (Trish) Ladner of Lakeshore, Miss., sister-in-law Irma Day of Bay Saint Louis, Miss., along with many nieces, nephews, cousins and friends.

Visitation for Mrs. Laura Ladner will be held on Wednesday, January 6, 2021 at Saint Clare Cathloic Church in Waveland, Mississippi from 11 a.m. to 12 noon, followed by a Mass of Christian Burial beginning at noon. Burial to follow in the Lakeshore Cemetery.

The Ladner family would like to give a special thank you to Woodland Village, Canon Hospice and all the health care providers who cared for Laura during her final days, as well as a sincere and humble ‘Thank you’ to the Angel Organ Donor and donor's family who gave us many blessed years with our beloved Laura. We are eternally grateful for that gift and act of selfless love. May her kindness, love and infectious smile forever radiate in our hearts.

LOVE IS PATIENT, LOVE IS KIND

By GARY ANDREWS

During the holiday seasons I watched a lot of Hallmark channel movies. Most of these movies are oriented to the season and most of them are geared toward showing love for someone or for showing love toward one another. These are great movies that always have great purpose to them, do not show immorality, no vulgar scenes, and do not use any profanity. They are genuinely good family movies.

These movies show a lot of people being brought together through circumstances other than what we expect in everyday life. Actually, it could be everyday life, we just choose not to recognize it because it may get in way of our earthly desires or wants and we fail to recognize what is right in front of our nose. Many of you may have seen the Christmas in Conway movie. It was about a man wanting to give his dying wife a final wish and give her a ride on a ferris wheel until she passed away. The only thing he could do was to purchase one and put it in his backyard which was in a historic district of town. His next door neighbor, which had grievances that went back to both families' grandfathers, was trying to be the Christmas showplace of the town and complained about what was going on next door with the ferris wheel.

The man, a staunch, self-righteous man, had trouble getting along with people and most of the problem was his grief that he was carrying inside because of his sick wife. He had trouble working with the hospice nurse who came to live with them until his wife would eventually go home to be with the Lord. The man had hope he could take care of his wife without the help of trained professionals. He had trouble with a young man that eventually helped him construct his project because the young man had stolen something from him in the past. He had no faith in the young man. Yet the young man turned his life around because the man's dying wife was a former school teacher of his and forgave him of his problems and showed him how he could turn his life around.

We are told in 1 Corinthians 13:4-7; "Love is patient, love is kind. It does not envy, it does not boast. It is not rude, it is not self-seeking, it is not easily angered, it keeps no record of wrongs. Love does not delight in evil but rejoices with the truth. It always protects, always trusts, always hopes, always perseveres." Verse 8 also starts, "Love never fails."

As the story ends the man learned from the hospice nurse that not only did she care for his wife, she cared for him by not letting him run her off and helped him overcome some of the grief that he was harboring. The young man didn't give up on the man either and showed him that all he wanted was forgiveness because he wasn't the same person he was in the past. He had actually done something with his life and just wanted to be a help to others, especially the dying lady because of her faith in him and her nurturing him in the right direction. Both show unconditional love for the man. The lady next door, that wanted all the glory for her Christmas showplace, eventually came around because she witnessed the love the man gave to his wife in erecting a ferris wheel in his backyard overcoming the obstacles he faced from her, the law, and others.

It is my hope that all of us as we face each day of the rest of our lives, is that we will look around and help those in need. Many are going to say they don't want our help but we can help them through love and prayerful concern. Each one of us will need to exercise our faith, hope, and love in our neighbors and friends.

THOMAS WILLIAM KIDD

MICHAEL VAN SEVIN

REBECCA "BECKY" YBARRA (BRADFORD) WYATT

THOMAS WILLIAM KIDD

Thomas William Kidd passed away peacefully at his home on Tuesday December 29, 2020 at the age of 81. Born in New Orleans, LA on April 13, 1939 to Raymond and Lorraine Kidd, he was the oldest of nine children. Tommy graduated from St. Stanislaus College in 1957 and attended University of Southern Mississippi. He married his high school sweetheart, Linda Auderer, and they were married for 61 years.

He was employed with HealthCo Auderer Dental for 25 years, proudly selling equipment to LSU Dental School in New Orleans. When he longed for less traveling, he and his brother, Ray Kidd, Jr., opened the first Lil' Ray's Restaurant in Waveland in 1970. Later, he would own and operate Daddy O's Cafe also in Waveland.

Tommy had a big heart and loved his community. His genuine devotion to the people of Waveland and Bay St. Louis was real. He would do anything to help someone in need. This was never more evident than after Hurricane Katrina when he put others before himself. He became an Enforcement Officer for Solid Waste in Hancock County and worked tirelessly to clean up properties destroyed by the hurricane. Because of his contributions, he was awarded the Small-Town Hero Award for his work with Help Keep America Beautiful. He was relentless in his duties and gave his heart and soul to the community in so many ways.

Tommy loved to fish and was an expert on the Louisiana marsh. He was a fan of the New Orleans Saints and Mardi Gras. He was a founding member and officer for the Krewe of Triton. He helped form the Waveland Civic Association where he served as president, Grand Marshall, and was instrumental in starting their St. Patrick's Day Parade. He reigned as King Nereus in 1976. He was a pioneer in bringing the Republican Party to Hancock County. He was a member of St. Clare's Catholic Church in Waveland, MS and was always lending a helping hand for their annual Seafood Festival. He volunteered wherever he was needed. He was well known for his crawfish boils and fried turkeys. He fed the hungry and cared for the needy and never complained.

Tommy was an inspiration to his family and countless friends. He was quick-witted with classic one-liners no one could compete with.

He is preceded in death by his parents, his brother, Ray Kidd, Jr., his sister, Barbara Kidd Rigby, and his daughter-in-law, Ruthie Kidd.

He was devoted to his family. He is survived by his beloved wife, Linda Auderer Kidd, his sons Tommy Kidd, Jr., of Bay St. Louis, MS, and Steve Kidd (Cathy) of Melbourne, FL, and his daughter, Kelyn Kidd Breland (Mark) of Bay St. Louis, MS. He leaves behind his seven siblings: Steve C. Kidd (Lynn), Davy Kidd (Pam), Ricky Kidd (Janie), Lorraine Werner (Felix), Sharon Seals (Cooter), Susan Kidd, sister-in-law, Jackie Kidd, and brother-in-law, John F. Auderer. "Tee" had a special individual relationship with each of his 4 grandchildren, Bryce Breland (Amanda) Brooks Breland (Jordon), Brit Breland (Adriana), and Bailey Kidd and adored his precious 4 great grandchildren, McKaylin Breland, Payton Breland, Dani Breland, and Beckham Breland. He rarely missed a soccer game, softball game, or dance recital.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests donations in Tommy's memory to St. Clare's Catholic Church, 236 S. Beach Blvd., Waveland, MS 39576.

Due to Covid-19, a private family service for immediate family only will be held.

SHORE THING: THE BUDDY SYSTEM

Five short years ago, my daughter Margot was in kindergarten. She asked if we could bring her 5th grade buddy Brady on a fishing trip. At her school(Coast Episcopal) the 5th graders are paired with kindergarteners, it's kind of a mentoring program. We had an amazing day on the water. Her "buddy" Brady caught a ton of fish, and the weather was perfect.

I blinked, and it's 5 years later. Now Margot is a 5th grader. Her class is small, so she has been assigned two kindergarten buddies. Enter Ruth and Ollie. I don't ever pressure Margot to go fishing. If she wants to go, I do my very best to make time. She really wanted to take her two buddies fishing. I thought it was an excellent idea.

Our plan was to fish over the Christmas break. Between the bookings I already had, and the bad weather in between, we were about to miss our chance. We opted to roll the dice on a windy day, and just fish inside Bayou Caddy. I don't think young Ruth and Ollie have had many days on a boat, so we wanted to keep things fun and comfortable.

It turned out to be a fantastic day on the water. Margot, Ruth and Ollie had an absolute blast. We didn't set any state records. Heck, I don't think we caught a legal sized fish. We made the entire outing all about "the Lil buddies". The dads that came along let the little ones reel in ever fish we hooked. The kids were all smiles, all day long. They caught speckled trout, flounder and croakers. You'd of thought we caught big Marlins all day.

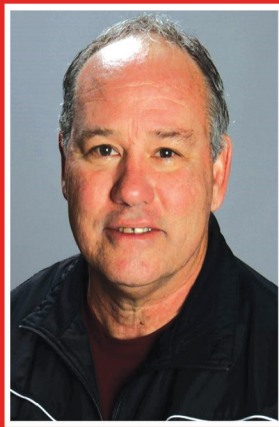

When getting the younger ones interested in fishing, it really does help when you bring one of their friends along. If there is any nervousness or boredom, sometimes having a "buddy" makes things easier. When we first introduced Margot to fishing, we learned quickly, that bringing a friend along really keeps things running smoother. It's also really cool to just get more youngsters outdoors.

It was a real treat to have my lil buddy Margot on the boat. It was even more special of a day watching her have fun with her Kindergarten buddies Ruth and Ollie.

It doesn't matter if they're young or old, please be sure and make time for your buddies.

As always, have fun and be safe.

The first Thursday in November the 5th we were rained out but with Zeta just hitting us a week before no one was really in the mood to play golf.

On November 12th we had the Pink Hearts Tournament which had been delayed because of Zeta. We sold raffle tickets to some nice baskets and had a 50/50 drawing which the winner graciously gave all the money back to the Pink Hearts Fund. This fund helps local women who are going through cancer with their expenses. We raised $2,721 for the fund. We had 40 women playing a four person scramble. There was first place team was Cassandra Godbold, Cathy Weber, Betty Perry and Betsy Lyons. The second place team was Leslie Page, Liz Bell, Joanne Fried and Carol Wyrosdick. The third place team was Denise Bergeron, Terri Woolbright, Kathie Pierson and Marlenee Gossard.

Closest to the pin on the Pine course was hole #2 Cassandra Godbold, hole #6 was Leslie Page, hole #13 was Margie James and hole #15 was Margie James.

November 12th we played our Turkey Day Tournament. This is where each player takes their handicap and add it to par to get the amount of strokes you are allowed. When you reach that number you plant your turkey in the ground and whoever's turkey travels the furthest wins. We then had lunch afterwards. The 1st flight winner was Cassandra Godbold. The 2nd flight winner was Ellen Culliton. The third flight winner was Terri Woolbright. The fourth flight winner was Cathy Weber. The Black tee winner was Joyce Teerling.

November 26th was Thanksgiving and we all gathered with our loved ones and gave thanks for our blessings. One blessing we all have in common is living in Diamondhead.

Former SSC All-American Chase Rogers draws start for Ole Miss in Outback Bowl

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
STAFF WRITER

Former Saint Stanislaus All-American tight end Chase Rogers jumped up the depth chart for the Ole Miss Rebels last week and drew the start in the Outback Bowl against then #7-ranked Indiana. This was the first meeting between Indiana and Ole Miss and the Rebels' first appearance in the Outback Bowl.

The Rebels upset Indiana of the Big Ten Conference 26-20 despite missing 80% of their offensive production due to injury and two players opting out for the NFL Draft.

Both WR Braylon Sanders and RB Jerrian Ealy missed the game due to injury while AP first team All-American WR Elijah Moore and TE Kenny Yeboah both opted out earlier this season to prepare for the NFL Draft.

Kiffin with a 5-5 record while Indiana finished with a 6-2 record.

In the game, Ole Miss QB Matt Coral was named the game's Most Outstanding Player throwing for 342 yards and two touchdowns on 30-for-44 passing.

Rogers caught three passes for 18 yards in the Outback Bowl.

The Rebels rank 25th all-time with 37 bowl appearances and 16th all-time with 24 wins. The Rebels' .649 winning percentage in bowl games is second only to Southern California.

MDMR announces crab trap closure January 21-31

SEA COAST ECHO

BILOXI, Miss. — In an effort to remove derelict crab traps from state waters, the Mississippi Department of Marine Resources (MDMR) will conduct a crab trap closure for commercial and recreational crab fishermen in Mississippi territorial waters within one-half mile of the mainland shoreline and Deer Island from the Alabama/Mississippi border to the Mississippi/Louisiana border. The closure will run from 6 a.m. Thursday, Jan. 21, until 6 a.m. Sunday, Jan. 31, 2021.

The schedule for the removal of crab traps is as follows:

Jan. 21 – 27 – All commercial and recreational crab fishermen must use this time to remove their own traps from closure areas in Mississippi territorial waters. As a reminder, it is illegal to remove traps licensed to another person outside of the approved trap removal dates. This will be strictly enforced.

Jan. 28 – 30 - All traps remaining in the water will be considered derelict and will be removed and recycled. Volunteers may remove remaining traps from all state waters during these dates. Derelict traps may be dropped off at MDMR designated sites for recycling from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. at Point Park in Pascagoula, Ocean Springs Harbor and Pleasure Street Boat Launch in Bay St. Louis.

Jan. 31 – Beginning at 6 a.m., all active traps may be returned to Mississippi territorial waters and crab fishing may resume.

The Mississippi Derelict Crab Trap Removal Program has removed and recycled almost 22,000 traps since its inception in 1999. Volunteers interested in participating in this year's program can contact the MDMR Shrimp and Crab Bureau at (228) 374-5000 for more information.

"I Protect Children"

CHILDREN'S ADVOCACY CENTERS OF MISSISSIPPI'S 20TH ANNIVERSARY MOVEMENT

SEA COAST ECHO

Children's Advocacy Centers of Mississippi (CACM) is celebrating its 20th Anniversary of saving and protecting the abused, neglected, and trafficked children of Mississippi. To honor this major achievement, CACM is initiating a yearlong, statewide movement, "I Protect Children" that encourages everyone to become aware and get involved to improve the environment for child victims and families of abuse and maltreatment.

"During the 20-year journey of Children's Advocacy Centers of Mississippi, we have served and protected 44,064 children," said Karla Tye, Executive Director of CACM. "By launching the 'I Protect Children' movement, we hope to spread awareness of the groundbreaking work child advocacy centers around the state are achieving. Some of our most important innovations include coordinating investigative training and teamwork across agencies, our nationally recognized educational collaborations with state colleges and universities, our research-based advances in investigative forensic interviewing, and our emphasis on victim advocacy and treatment. These remarkable achievements are profoundly changing the future for so many of our at-risk children."

Since its establishment in 2001, the Children's Advocacy Centers of Mississippi has grown to 12 local child advocacy centers across the state. These centers provide critical services to children that are victims of child abuse, neglect, and trafficking. The goal is to have every county covered by a local child advocacy center to help protect the vulnerable children of Mississippi.

CACM has also enacted the concept of Multidisciplinary Teams throughout the state, which collectively brings together all the necessary medical and prosecutorial parties to maximize convictions while minimizing the child's trauma. The collaboration begins with the training programs that emphasize recognition, competency, and cooperation for all members, so each individual knows his/her role and understands how to manage situations throughout an investigation.

In the last 20 years, CACM also implemented Child Advocacy Studies, a nationally recognized curriculum, in 27 colleges and universities across the state. This has allowed the educational and training process to be uniformed and streamlined to maximize the effectiveness and to better prepare professionals entering the advocacy workforce. In 2019, CACM became a leader in the nation by opening the Child Advocacy Training Institute, an educational facility for simulation training. It is the only center of its kind in Mississippi dedicated to child abuse recognition training for professionals and students.

With "I Protect Children," one of the many goals is to inform every Mississippi citizen that they are a mandated reporter by law. If someone suspects there is child abuse, neglect, or trafficking, they are required by law to report it. Anyone can call 1.800.222.8000 to file a report anonymously with MDCPS 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

"Every CACM program is established to protect the children of Mississippi, and although our 'I Protect Children' movement is to celebrate CACM's 20th Anniversary," said Karla Tye, "we hope that it will continue to spread awareness and inspire individuals to get involved for years to come."

If you're interested in joining our "I Protect Children" movement, please contact your local child advocacy center or visit childadvocacymys.org/I-Protect-Children to learn how you can get involved.

On January 11, 2021, CACM will be kicking off the "I Protect Children" yearlong movement virtually with a Facebook Live event. Please follow their Facebook page for more information regarding the launch.

About Children's Advocacy Centers of Mississippi (CACM)

Children's Advocacy Centers of Mississippi (CACM) is the membership organization of Mississippi's statewide Children's Advocacy Centers (CACs), where children who have been victimized can receive a coordinated, victim-centered response from investigators and service providers. Nearly 1,800 children enter a Mississippi child advocacy center each year to talk about the unimaginable. These child-friendly settings are designed to create a sense of safety and security for child victims. CACs also share the goal of stopping child abuse before it even starts. Incorporated as a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization in 2008, CACM is an accredited state chapter of the National Children's Alliance (NCA). In addition to our highly acclaimed reactive work, CACM is committed to pro-active work, fostering systemic and societal change to protect children.

Meet Lindo, a 3 year old Walker Hound Mix. One of our volunteers has spent some time with this shy boy, and she says that he is so beautiful and so very calm. And so fearful, too. It took a lot of work to get this sweet guy to let her love on him. But, once she began to pet him, it's like he forgot about everything else, and he was so content. He was still unsure of his surroundings and kept a watchful eye, but he is definitely very sweet and eager for love. Lindo just needs a patient, understanding family, who will spend quality time with him so he may regain trust and confidence. Our kennel techs are unsure yet if Lindo is house or crate trained. He is a little insecure about taking a walk, so please be patient and positive in all aspects of his training. We recommend harness training. We think Lindo will blossom into a loving and devoted companion for the individual or family willing to be gentle and patient with him while he acclimates to his new wonderful life. If you would like to open your home and heart to this sweet boy, please call our front desk at 228-466-4516 to schedule a meet-n-greet. He is a great dog that just needs a little TLC.

FIRST ARTWALK OF THE NEW YEAR IS THIS SATURDAY IN ST

ECHO STAFF

The next installment of the monthly Second Saturday Artwalk — sponsored by the Old Town Bay St. Louis Merchants Assoc. — is scheduled for this Saturday, Jan. 9.

The event began 28 years ago and has grown over the decades to become a monthly tourism draw for the entire region.

In light of COVID-19, please be mindful of social distancing and sanitation. Bring a mask this Second Saturday. Some establishments require them.

Old Town stays lively all day, with many merchants and restaurants offering specials. The pace picks up from 4 - 8 p.m., when gallery openings and live music keep the streets humming with activity.

You'll find cool deals, fresh meals, and lots of art and live music.

This month's Second Saturday "Hot Spots" have not yet been selected, but the local merchants and restaurants have plenty of events and specials planned.

The event began modestly in Old Town Bay Saint Louis in the early 1990's. Gallery owners Jerry Dixon (Serenity Gallery) and Keith Karlson (the Mississippi Gallery) realized that the Bay area was quickly developing into a haven for artists from around the country and organized the event to provide a venue to showcase local work. During those first years, nearly a dozen shops and galleries in the Bay hung new exhibits, mailed out invitations and opened their doors to delighted art-lovers in the community.

Around 1995, the event began a two-year hiatus. It was reorganized by local artists Ellis Anderson (Quarter Moon Gallery) and Vicki Niolet (Paper Moon Gallery) in 1997. The two friends and gallery owners created a new format which would include participation by merchants and restaurants, in addition to art venues.

The new plan was simple. The event would be held March through November. Participating merchants were asked to contribute ten dollars a month toward event costs. To add to the excitement, each Second Saturday two local merchants (one for each end of Main Street) were featured as "Hot Spots." Peoples Bank came on board as the first sponsor, donating money to hire a band for live music on the street each month.

While that small budget didn't allow much for conventional advertising, Anderson and Niolet wrote and sent out press releases across the Gulf Coast in a grass-roots promotional campaign. They referred to their technique as "guerilla marketing," since the event was organized and promoted without the assistance of governmental or formal organizations and with a budget of only a few hundred dollars per month.

The new concept began to take root. By 1999, more than fifty galleries, restaurants and shops were participating. Visitors began driving from across the region, drawn from towns like Baton Rouge, Mobile and Hattiesburg. The streets of Old Town filled with families each Second Saturday evening.

In 2000, Anderson and Niolet passed the Second Saturday baton on to local stained-glass artist Richie Zitzmann and his wife Barbara. The couple volunteered to coordinate the event until 2005 and grew it from a seasonal to a year-round event.

Second Saturday was the star of a Mississippi Roads episode taped for Mississippi Public Broadcasting in 2005, only months before Hurricane Katrina. Yet even the most devastating hurricane in the country's history didn't put a stop to the Second Saturday Artwalk. Vicki Niolet, her husband, Doug, and a small group of others gathered in ruins at the foot of Main Street less than two weeks after Katrina demolished most of Old Town (see banner picture). The candles they lit that evening signified that the creative spirit was still burning brightly in Bay St. Louis.

Owners of a cooperative gallery on Main Street came up with a novel idea in those dark days. Artists Jenise McCardell and husband Mark Currier decided to host Second Saturday EVERY Saturday evening for several months at 220 Main Street.

Their building had been one of the least damaged in the Old Town area and they opened the space up free to artists who wanted to sell their wares on that evening. But the event in that post-Katrina havoc was much more than a occasion to view art. For many months, the corner of Main Street and Toulme became a gathering place for the community on Saturday evenings, a mental health event where stressed-out residents could find a few hours of normalcy amid the chaos.

Today, the Second Saturday Artwalk is managed by the Old Town Merchants Association. More than fifty businesses participate each month, with many civic groups and musicians setting up along the street to add to the excitement and sense of total community inof place where art and real life blissfully meet, where customers stay long after their purchase to enjoy the energy and good vibes, and everyone feels welcomed and instantly at ease. It has become one of the most energetic artist co-ops on the Gulf Coast.

Just down the block a bit at 200 Main Street, you'll find Magnolia Antiques, where you'll enter a world of the past, one that brings memories flooding back with each step. Corridors weave through 3000 feet lined with cases and shelves and furniture from another, simpler era. But you have to wonder, who's the mastermind behind this magical array of collectibles and antiques?

There are actually four masterminds now. Glenda and Jack Schornick originally opened Magnolia Antiques in Old Town in 2007. Then in 2013, Schornick's daughter, Shay Coss relocated from California and became part of daily operations.

The shop is located in a huge storefront at the corner of Main and Second Streets, one that housed a department store for over fifty years.

It's still a department store of sorts. There's the kitchenware department and the depression-glass department and the quirky-knick-knack department and the vintage-camera department. And then rows upon rows of items that could simply be categorized under a "Cool and Amazing Things" heading.

"To us, we represent the epitome of recycling," says Glenda. "We have all that stuff you loved in your great-grandmother's house, from pottery to kitchenware, from serious antiques to vintage and collectibles.

Even though the merchants group took over the management of the monthly festival, McCardell and Currier still stay pretty busy.

One of the oldest continuously operating businesses in Old Town, Clay Creations is the brainchild of McCardell, who's been fashioning small ceramic sculptures of regional homes, schools and churches along the Gulf Coast since 1980. The business has become a family affair through the years, as McCardell and Currier were joined by daughter Devon.

"People collect memories through my art," says McCardell. "My favorite creations are custom pieces I make for customers who provide photos of their homes or businesses."

Clay Creations are handmade sculptures primarily of New Orleans and the Gulf Coast. The pieces are sculpted from white clay, hand-painted and fired twice in a hire temperature kiln. Countless unique pieces from over 1,000 different Clay Creation designs have been formed over the years. They include homes, churches, schools and businesses. Some of which just "ain't dere no mo!"

Both the Clay Creations working studio and gallery — where over 1,000 different designs are on display — are located at 220 Main Street, in Gallery 220. McCardell owns the show-stopping art deco building, sharing the space with over twenty other artists in the cooperative venture.

The building can be recognized by the colorful mural of the big red tree on the south side, and the Coke sign on the north. Twenty-five local artists belong to the co-operative gallery which offers a diverse collection of art. When entering the showroom, you will be greeted by artists who feel passionate about their work and will happily share both knowledge and enthusiasm while staffing the gallery.

Featuring paintings, sculptures, jewelry, mosaics, t-shirts, pottery, photography and so much more, the collection offers something for all tastes and price points. It is the type
